

Exam – Accident Prevention Basics

True (T) or False (F)

1. T F Many factors which can cause accidents are within the employee's control.
2. T F Horseplay is a factor which can lead to accidents.
3. T F It is only the Supervisor's responsibility to observe employees for unsafe acts and behaviors.
4. T F Work rules and instructions must always be followed in order to prevent accidents.
5. T F It is acceptable to continue to operate a piece of deficient equipment until the end of the work shift and then report it to the Supervisor.
6. T F If you do not have the correct tool for the job, make do with what you have – getting the job Done quickly is more important than doing it safely.
7. T F Good housekeeping is not a factor in preventing accidents.
8. T F Moving stone slabs without following proper procedures and using required safeguards is a potentially hazardous task which can lead to life-threatening injuries.

(Select the best answer)

9. Which of the following require inspection prior to use on each shift:
 - A. Cranes
 - B. Forklifts
 - C. Hand and power tools
 - D. All of the above
10. Who is responsible for identifying and reporting workplace hazards?
 - A. Supervisors
 - B. Workers
 - C. A and B
 - D. None of the above